Christine Tassan et les Imposteures

A p r i l 2 , 2 0 2 0

With a decade and a half of bringing their special blend of Gypsy jazz and revisited cover songs to audiences, Christine Tassan et les Imposteures have made a name for themselves on the music scene. The latest show of these four exquisitely talented female musicians brings together some of the best works by Django Reinhardt, Felex Leclerc and American swing composers. This crafty double tribute recalls the meeting between the Gypsy guitarist and the Quebec singer-songwriter in a Saint-Germain-des-Pres hotel in 1951, in Paris. If the two really did meet, the rest is the product of the intensely creative imagination of the quartet. With a singular mix of virtuosity, daring and humour, the four-woman string band draws inspiration from one artist's poetry and the other's swing to weave a rich new musical universe, an ode to freedom and creativity. In the same line of thought, they've expanded their concept to the wonderful swing music of some contemporary "friends" of Django and Felix.
